

Clarifier: The treatment process at our facility mimics the natural process that occurs in lakes and streams. When water flows through the clarifiers, the 'bugs' that have been used to clean the water are separated from the clean water. The 'bugs' are reused to clean more wastewater while clean water moves on in the process.

